Ranchers Assured Protection From Theft By Sheriff

Assurance that continued protection from thievery would be given citrus growers and poultry raisers in unincorporated sections of the county, was assured recently with an order instructing the sheriff's department to continue its experimental patrol inaugurated several months ago.

The order was made by the board of supervisors upon the plea of orchardists and ranchers who appealed to Supervisor Hugh A. Thatcher. Among those who attended the conference were B. R. Holloway of Van Nuys, hatchery man; Judge F. E. Halm of La Habra, Tom Ingersoll of Los Angeles, Leo V. Youngworth, Los Angeles, F. C. Hoggsett of Pomona and M. B. Hounds, farm advisor.

Entire "Ranch" poultry are known to have been taken in one night and in another instance a whole grove of avocados was stripped overnight by pillagers.

The Modes in Manners Club are reading a very interesting book at their meetings called "A Girl's Life." It is a story involving etiquette as the main thought, so the club decided it would be appropriate to read.

The girls take turns reading and the last meeting on Thursday, December 15, was the second meeting since the story has been started. The girls are very interested in the story and it will serve as the main project of their meetings next semester.

The senior play cast gave Mrs. Engel, director, a surprise party last Thursday evening. The way they managed to get her to the school was by asking her to come to a rehearsal of the Madrigal program started Friday, December 16. It was undoubtedly the most beautiful program that has been given at Torrance high school, this year.

The setting of the cathedral with Madrigal program started Friday, chimes made a lovely effect.

The little choir girls and the is finished and now on display at the high school library. It is a book with lovely pictures of California. There are some pictures of the Torrance high school also.

The covers of the book were made by Lillian Frazer, who also helped arrange the pictures. The townspeople are invited to come and see the book when school reopens in January.

Keeping Up With Torrance High

Mr. Waidelich called a special call to urge the students to help the people being assisted by the Torrance Relief Association. Mr. Waidelich asked the students if they wouldn't bring something even if it were only a few pennies. There are going to be drives in the classes and in the school as a whole.

Some of the men on the committee that is working for the good of the Torrance Relief were introduced and the president of the committee also spoke about the great number of needs in the community.
